

Books & Buildings Symposium

Please join the University of Texas at Austin School of Architecture for a "Books & Buildings" symposium to celebrate the completion of Doyle Hall at St. Edward's University.

This symposium will showcase the work of Specht Harpman and focus on how to achieve design excellence within a university campus, highlighting the role that architecture plays in promoting a university's mission.

We are honored to welcome guest commentators:

George Martin President, St. Edward's University
Melba Whatley Trustee, St. Edward's University
Patricia Clubb Vice President for Operations
The University of Texas at Austin

with moderator

Frederick Steiner Dean, School of Architecture
The University of Texas at Austin

Symposium

Thursday, February 25, 2010

4:00 - 6:00 pm, presentation and responses

The University of Texas at Austin School of Architecture
Goldsmith Hall, Room 3.120

Reception will follow in the Dean's Conference Room

